

social value case study

our communities

Saviours of Treharris Athletic

A number of our people live and work near Treharris Athletic. The club has been fighting to raise enough funds to carry out all the essential maintenance, upgrades and building work it needs to continue providing a suitable and safe place for the teams to play.

Having heard their plight, we approached them and offered our help with the car park, boundary wall and embankment.

What did we do?

We cleared the car park of detritus and vegetation and repaired potholes providing a safe, level car park space. The surface has been finished so that when the team reaches their fundraising target they can install the changing rooms there.

The crumbling boundary wall was repaired and made safe and a new fence was installed, linking the wall to the entrance gate.

And finally, we added a stone ramp to the gate entrance, making access easier and safer. This solution has solved an ongoing issue regarding the gradient of the embankment that has been causing concern for the club.

All in all, we spent a full week carrying out these improvements. We know it's making a huge difference to the 200 young people they have playing there now but also for future players too.

“ Keiron Jones, Chairman, Treharris Athletic Western, Mini and Junior Football Club, said:

“For the past year we have been fundraising and carrying out the work at the ground as volunteers to bring this club back from a state of ruin. What your workforce did for us is unbelievable. It has made such a massive difference to the club. It has completely turned the place around. Our aim has been to get this facility running for the summer and the help you have given us has really made this goal achievable. We will be forever grateful. Thank you.”